Chairman's Statement

Results

Turnover for the period was £1.486m (2009: £1.315m) with profit before tax of £174,000 (2009: £218,000). Profit before tax for 2009 was inflated by the inclusion of an exceptional rates rebate of £116,000.

Your Directors have declared an interim dividend of 0.75p per share (2009: 0p) to be paid on 25 February 2011 to shareholders on the register at the close of business on 28 January 2011.

The Commercial Property Market

The property investment market is currently polarised between low risk prime properties let on long leases to strong covenants (bond type investments particularly in central London) plus multi-let industrials; and the rest. Activity in large sections of the secondary market outside the South East remains subdued with values continuing to be under pressure.

Central London office investments, particularly in Mayfair and prime City, where rental growth prospects remain positive, are now selling for values at, or close to, their peak in early 2007. The feeding frenzy by mainly foreign buyers is encouraged by growth in office rents with a reported letting of Grade A space in Mayfair at £110 per sq.ft. A Bond Street shop letting at £1,000 Zone A is also sending a strong signal about the resilience of the West End.

However, that picture is not replicated elsewhere in the country and the market there remains challenging.

Apart from isolated instances, like Central London, the letting market for all types of space is difficult and likely to remain so in the foreseeable future.

With £50bn of property bank debt due for repayment each year for at least the next three years there are going to be many more problems than merely the high profile ones we have already seen.

The two largest lending banks are now publicly owned and the decision on non-performing loans is as much political as business. If the Banks flood the market with property, prices and values will be driven lower, to their own detriment.

However, there is a considerable volume of cash seeking a home in property and the current problem is finding suitable stock to buy. In our view, the market is likely to remain relatively flat in the coming year.

Business Overview

The transaction side of our business has been active during the first half although it has taken skill, endurance and flexibility to get some of the sales consummated. Nevertheless we have completed or exchanged approx £50million of sales in the first six months.

Our SHIPS 06 Fund made its first acquisition, purchasing a freehold multi-let office and retail investment on Basinghall Street in the heart of the City of London, a £6m property yielding 7% with potential to add value.

The Banks continue to say they will lend but that is not happening and as a result we have seen no pick up in our valuation instructions.

Rating instructions continue to increase and that part of our business is healthy and active.

Property Fund and Asset Management are strong. Despite the recession very few of the tenants we collect from have failed and our rent collection statistics are holding up well with over 95% of rents collected within 3 days of the quarter day.

Outlook

We expect the second half of the year to continue very much as the first and for the market to remain relatively flat. Much depends on the general economic outlook and with the current turmoil in the Eurozone it is becoming even more difficult to predict the future.

Our balance sheet and cash reserves remain strong and our highly motivated team are incentivised to drive the business forward in these difficult times.
